ADDRESS

OF THE

CANADIAN CAMPBELLS

- TO -

THE MARQUESS OF LORNE.

(NE OBLIVISCARIS.)

JUNE, 1882.

OTTAWA.

The suggestion that the Campbells residing in Canada should present an Address to the Marquess of Lorne was made in the summer of 1881, and the first step taken was the sending of the following circular to some of the leading men of the name in the several Provinces of the Dominion:—

(Private.)

OTTAWA, August 15, 1881.

SIR,—It has been thought that during the stay of the Marquess of Lorne in Canada, an opportunity might well and pleasantly be taken of presenting an Address to him from those who bear the name of Campbell in the Dominion.

It could not but be gratifying to the eldest son of the Chief of the Clan to find the strength and pride with which cherished memories of the House of Argyll and of the history of the Clan are maintained by all who share in the honour of bearing his name.

To accomplish the object thoroughly some careful organization and continuous work will be necessary, and some expense must be incurred.

I venture to take upon myself to address you upon the subject and to enquire if you approve of the proposal, and if you will give it your assistance?

I will be much obliged if you will send me the Post Office addresses of those of the name whom you think it would be well that I should communicate with on the subject, which should in the meantime be considered private.

Your obedient servant,

A. CAMPBELL.

Address reply to Sir Alexander Campbell, K.C.M.G., Ottawa.

Replies, approving of the proposition, were received from almost all those to whom the circular was transmitted, and upon this the Address was prepared; and, having been shewn to and approved of by one or two of the name, whose judgment was deemed to be the best upon the subject, one hundred copies were printed, and, with sheets of parchment of the proper size, were sent to about one hundred Campbells in all parts of the country.

Many difficulties attended the procuring of signatures, the state of the roads and the distance to be travelled made it in many cases a difficult task; but, with hardly an exception, all those to whom the duty was entrusted devoted themselves to it with persistent energy, and so successfully that, at the end of March, 1882, the sheets were all returned to Ottawa. They were in number 145, and the number of names procured 2,845. It was thought desirable that men and lads only should be asked to sign.

The Address itself was then engrossed and beautifully illuminated by Mr. Medlow, of Ottawa, and, with the sheets which had been originally cut of the same size as that used for the engrossing, was entrusted to Messrs. Dawson Brothers, of Montreal, to be bound. The task of selecting the kind of binding, colour and extent of ornamentation to be used, was undertaken by the late much esteemed Dr. George Campbell, of Montreal. He chose brown and gold (the colours of the Argyll family) for the binding, which was admirably executed by the Messrs. Dawson in thick Russia leather. The ornamentation consisted of the word "Lorne" surmounted by a coronet, and one of the mottoes of the Argyll family "ne obliviscaris" underneath

It was originally intended to have presented the Address during the Session of Parliament in May last, but Lord Lorne, upon being requested to appoint a day for the purpose, most graciously suggested that it would enhance the pleasure of the occasion very much if Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise could be present, and he requested that the presentation should be postponed and should take place immediately after the arrival of the Princess from England. Her Royal Highness arrived on Sunday the 4th, and on Monday a telegram was received, by direction of the Marquess, fixing for the presentation of the Address, Tuesday, the 13th of June, at 12 o'clock. Circulars had in the meantime been sent to about thirty (including all who had taken the most active part in procuring signatures and who, it was thought, would be likely to attend), requesting their presence on the occasion of the presentation, and saying that, as soon as a day had been fixed, if they desired it and could attend, telegrams would be sent to them informing them of the day and hour and appointing a rendezvous in Quebec. Telegrams were accordingly sent naming the St. Louis Hotel, on Tuesday, the 13th, at 11.30. The occurrence of the general elections and the distance to be travelled prevented the attendance of many of those who no doubt would have wished to have been present, but at the time appointed the following gentlemen assembled:

Sir Alexander Campbell, K.C.M.G., of Ottawa; Francis Campbell, M.D., of Montreal; the Rev. Robert Campbell, of Montreal; Captain E. A. C. Campbell, of St. Hilaire; Charles J. Campbell, of Toronto; A. Campbell, of Lochaber; Neil Campbell, his son; Archibald Campbell, of Quebee; Kenneth J. R. Campbell, of Quebee; Robert Campbell (St. Hilaire), of Quebee; Benjamin Campbell, of Quebee; and John Campbell, of Quebec.

The delegates proceeded in carriages to the Citadel. They were received by and presented to the Marquess of Lorne, and followed him to the drawing-room, where they were severally presented to Her Royal Highness the Princess, who received them very graciously. The Address was then read by Sir Alexander Campbell in the following words:—

ADDRESS.

The Most Honourable Sir John Douglas Sutherland Campbell, Marquess of Lorne, one of Her Majesty's Right Honourable Privy Council, Knight of the Thistle, and Knight Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George.

MY LORD MARQUESS:

We who, in Canada, have the honour of bearing the name of "Campbell," desire to express to you the pride and satisfaction with which we have beheld the government of the country, wherein we have east our lot, entrusted to the eldest son of our Chief.

No name could have afforded stronger guarantees for the maintenance of constitutional rule than that of a House famous in Scottish history for the part which its Chiefs have taken in support of parliamentary government, liberty of conscience, and the Throne as established by law, and Your Lordship's course, in the discharge of the duties of your high office, has commanded general confidence, and amply vindicated the wisdom of our Sovereign's choice.

But it is to Your Lordship, as the eldest son of the Chief of our Clan, that we desire to address ourselves on this occasion. Most of us have never seen the land of our sires, and some amongst us have but the dimmest recollection of it—but neither lapse of time nor separation from Scotland has destroyed our respect and attachment to the House of Argyll. In this distant land, where we have all prospered, we still rejoice in the name we bear, and in the stirring memories which it recalls; and the clustering honours which your noble ancestors and other distinguished clansmen have heaped upon it will afford us, we hope, additional incentives to honourable life and action.

We may not tender you the expression of the fealty and devotion with which in times past our fathers served "MacChaillan More," but the mottoon your arms is still our guide, and we have forgotten none of those traditions of our race which bind us to your illustrious House.

We wish the Princess and yourself health and happiness during your sojourn in Canada, and to Your Lordship, a long and distinguished career in the service of the Empire.

ONTARIO.

To which the Marquess of Lorne replied as follows:-

Gentlemen:

This is the second time that the Princess and I have had the pleasure of expressing our gratitude to you, for, on the occasion of our marriage, you, with our clansmen in other parts of the world, were pleased to give to the Princess a beautiful token of your regard. We have to mourn the death of Doctor George Campbell who was to have accompanied you to-day. They who had the honour of his friendship find their sorrow shared by the public who knew him as one of the most eminent men of science.

The Address which you are so good as to present to us to-day comes from those who, like ourselves, are connected with Canada; and although I make it a rule to speak of politics in the Dominion only with my Ministers, yet no Canadian will take it ill that in your speech you have alluded to past political events, and that I should claim as the direct result of the former action in these of our clan and their allies the presence of the Princess to-day on Canadian soil. Happily in the old land the old battles are not forgotten, but the virtues displayed by each party, whether Hanoverian or Jacobite, French or British, form now the sources of a common pride in ancestry whose mingled descendants know only one flag, and one common land of ordered liberty. If I can look with pleasure upon the part taken by men of our name in the past, it is with as great a pride that I see those of Highland descent among the foremost who here cherish ancient tradition as a means of furthering present toleration, unity and strength in the nation now coming into life.

The feudal system, which made all from the King to the humblest soldier dependent for support, each upon each, was no bad bulwark for liberty in days of disunion, and of national danger and weakness. Men often took our name, and were enrolled in our ranks, because a powerful clan's organization was a shield from the oppressor. But how much more fortunate are now the sons of Diarmid when, instead of relying on a military organization cooped up in a narrow territory for safety, they can take part in the affairs of an Empire grander than any dreamed of by the Bards in the days of Fiona or Alfred, or by the poets of the Middle Ages.

Gentlemen, we shall value this interesting volume containing so many names of our transatlantic kinsmen as a memorial of those who, like Sir Alexander Campbell, we may regard as our well known friends, and of many more who are glad to count a personal feeling as included in the sentiment of duty which prompts them to cherish, as for the highest interest of this country, the close union of Great Britain and of Canada.

(Signed) LORNE.

CITADEL, QUEBEC, 13th June, 1882.

The delegates then retired. On their return to the St. Louis Hotel, the Rev. Robert Campbell, of Montreal, moved, and Dr. Francis Campbell, of the same City, seconded, a motion of acknowledgment and thanks to Sir Alexander Campbell, "for having initiated and carried forward the project of the Address which they had just had the honour of presenting to the Marquis of Lorne," which was unanimously agreed to. Sir Alexander returned his cordial thanks, and said that "the work had been one of great pleasure to him, and that he had been heartily seconded by every one of the name to whom he had applied," and referred "to the work which had been carefully performed by Mr. H. G. Hopkirk since the beginning of the effort which had to-day so happily been consummated."

It was then proposed and agreed that in recognition of Mr. Hopkirk's kind and voluntary services, a suitable acknowledgment should be made to him, and the Rev. Robert Campbell, Dr. Francis Campbell and Captain Campbell of St. Hilaire, were requested to select and purchase some suitable souvenir of the occasion, to be forwarded to Ottawa and then presented to Mr. Hopkirk on behalf of all who had signed the Address. These gentlemen having met in Montreal chose a gold half hunting watch for the purpose, upon which they had engraved "Presented to H. G. Hopkirk by the Clan Campbell in Canada. June 13th, 1882," with the crest and motto of Campbell of Argyll, which was duly presented to Mr. Hopkirk on behalf of the Clan on the 5th of July.

The present pamphlet is intended to afford to those who joined in the Address an opportunity of preserving a souvenir of so interesting an event in the history of their race in Canada.
